Planning

Gather Resources - Hunt for those hard-to-find lesson components and ideas.

Get the Facts! - Locate teacher-friendly research to support instructional strategies you want to use in the classroom.

Re-Think Your Space - Through collaboration, reinvent your classroom space with consideration for how furniture, lighting, and space impact instruction.

Differentiation Support - Help design choice assignments or tiered activities or assessments.

Classroom Guest - Cover your classroom for a short period of time to allow you to observe a lesson in another teacher's classroom.

Instruction

Peer Coaching - Observe another teacher together and discuss what you are interested in implementing.

Data Collection - Observe a lesson to collect data on a student/students for RTI or other intervention purposes.

Coaching Cycle - Plan for a series of lessons to co-teach and reflect upon; goal-based and student-centered.

Micromodeling - Model a specific component of a lesson in your classroom with your students while you observe.

Data Chat - Collaboratively analyze data to make instructional decisions.

Right-Hand Woman - Serve as an extra pair of hands for an engaging lesson.

Reflection

Reflection Through Conversation - After observation, reflect on student learning in your classroom and collaborate on how to implement new learning.

Lean on Me - Lend an open and confidential ear for an academic topic of your choice.

Brainstorming Session - Bounce innovative ideas off one another based on reflections made.

Networking - Help you connect with other educators in and out of our district.

New Student Enrollment - Upon the arrival of a new student, assist with reading and/or math assessment(s) to help guide your instruction.
